

Basic Ultralights can fly in Class E airspace now

602.29 that bans Basic ul has been changed and an exemption has been made.

Transport has finally realized that it was a mistake and have changed it .

So all you low flying BULA pilots that have been ground skimming can now fly at safer altitudes as long as you have a Altimeter and a compass or GPS.

BULAs just got more rights.

Look for it to change soon on the website.
